

EARTH SCULPTURE 2015

A CREATIVE COLLABORATION WITH NATURE

THE LINDA & GENE FARLEY CENTER
FOR PEACE, JUSTICE AND SUSTAINABILITY

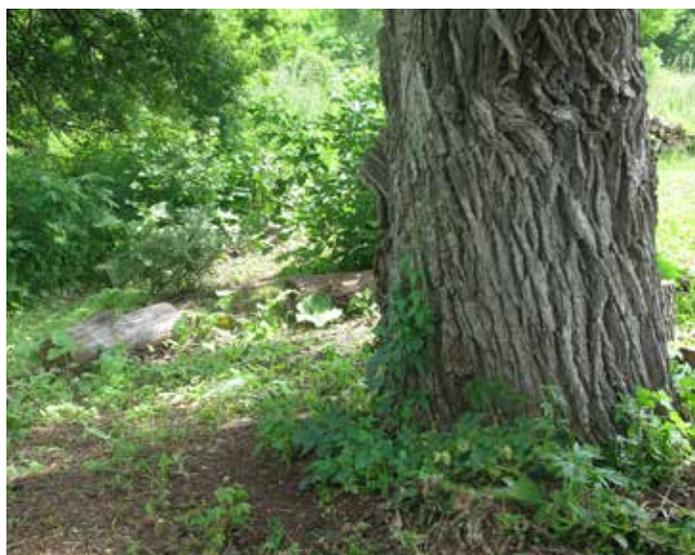

ARTISTS ARE INVITED TO GET CREATIVE

on the Farley Center land outside Verona, Wisconsin

Using natural materials from the land,

all artists are invited to be inspired, expand creative boundaries, play with mystery, initiate surprise, explore and celebrate our connection to the earth,

all art needs to be able to decay back into the earth.

About the Farley Center

The Linda & Gene Farley Center for Peace, Justice and Sustainability is located outside of Verona Wisconsin on 43 acres of beautiful farm and wooded land. It's dedicated to socially progressive change, community partnership, environmental sustainability, peace and social justice. It hosts a farm incubator and the Spring Rose Growers Cooperative, Natural Path Sanctuary: a natural burial ground, community gardens, and offers workshops and events related to peace, justice and sustainability.

THE FARLEY CENTER AND THE ARTS

The Farley Center welcomes artists into the discussion on peace, justice and sustainability and make the land available to host art-making, discussion, retreat and education. You are invited to be a part of seeing this vision grow and come to life. Some ideas that have already begun to percolate:

- Discussion evenings mixing artists and scientists and ethicists
- Times for artists to make art and have day retreats at the Center
- Hosting special art-making days for plein air artists or paper-makers or environmental sculptors, etc.
- Group exhibitions both at the Center and throughout the area
- Hosting groups and conferences such as the Beehive Collective to come to Madison and be creative with us
- What are your ideas? Come share them!

Without justice there can be no peace.

Without peace there can be no sustainability.

*Without sustainability
there can be no future.*
