

EARTHTONES

A CREATIVE COLLABORATION WITH NATURE

THE LINDA & GENE FARLEY CENTER FOR PEACE, JUSTICE AND SUSTAINABILITY

ARTISTS ARE INVITED TO GET CREATIVE

on the Center's land outside Verona, Wisconsin

as part of a commemorative celebration and conference on ecological justice

Using natural materials from the land...and the land itself, all artists are invited to be inspired, expand creative boundaries, play with mystery, initiate surprise, explore and celebrate our connection to the earth

August 16-18, 2013

all art needs to be able to decay back into the earth

Come learn more about the Farley Center and the August event

Saturday, May 25, 2013 (Noon-2pm)

we will picnic and take a walking tour as we talk about the possibilities

if you can't make this but want to learn more, contact bobbette@bobbetterose.com

More about the Farley Center

The Linda & Gene Farley Center for Peace, Justice and Sustainability is located outside of Verona Wisconsin on 43 acres of beautiful farm and wooded land. It's dedicated to socially progressive change, community partnership, environmental sustainability, peace and social justice. The Farleys have donated their home and land to create a non-profit center so that others may also be inspired to create a sustainable legacy. It hosts a farm incubator and the Spring Rose Growers Cooperative, Natural Path Sanctuary: a natural burial ground, community gardens, and offers workshops and events related to peace, justice and sustainability.

THE FARLEY CENTER AND THE ARTS

The Farley Center has a vision to welcome artists into the discussion on peace, justice and sustainability and make the land available to host art-making, discussion, retreat and education. You are invited to be a part of seeing this vision grow and come to life. Some ideas that have already begun to percolate:

- Discussion evenings mixing artists and scientists and ethicists
- Times for artists to make art and have day retreats at the Center
- Hosting special art-making days for plein air artists or paper-makers or environmental sculptors, etc.
- Group exhibitions both at the Center and throughout the area
- Hosting groups and conferences such as the Beehive Collective to come to Madison and be creative with us
- What are your ideas? Come join us!

Without justice there can be no peace.

Without peace there can be no sustainability.

Without sustainability there can be no future.
