Farley Center Volunteer Spotlight Congratulations to Justine Mischka

This quarter we highlight Justine Mischka. She was a student at UW-Madison studying Community and Nonprofit Leadership, and Environmental Studies. We thank her for all the time she volunteered and eventually became the team leader here at the Farley Center as a UW Badger. She reflects on her time by saying, "Some of my fondest and most intimate learning experiences in Madison have been fostered at the Farley Center; the garlic I planted and I both grew tremendously in that fertile soil." The Grow Program

Seth Riley, the Farley Center Farm Manager, is working with Community Heal Volunteers of Madison (CHVM) volunteers to maintain a garden dedicated to the Grow Program. The produce from this garden will be incorporated into CHVM's garden baskets. CHVM volunteers will also glean from other farmers at The Farley Center, collecting excess produce that can be included in the garden baskets. Learn more.

We Love Our Volunteers

The Farley Center appreciates and thanks all of our volunteers, past and present. Our UW Badger Volunteers come each summer on a weekly basis to weed, mulch, prune, harvest, work on fences, even dig a grave and many other tasks. They are some of our most cheerful and dependable volunteers. We value all the ways UW students join us in living out our mission. Learn more about volunteering.

Your Partnership is Key to Meeting our Mission of Peace, Justice and Sustainability.

The Farley Center is funded in part through the generosity of donations from those who share our vision and also through Natural Path Sanctuary green burial sales. We invite your support and participation to Farley Center. Learn more about the Farley Center.

Construction Update

The lower level windows have all been replaced, so we are snug tight and energy efficient. Now we are on to working on turning part of that space into a conference room at the Farley Center!
